Vinod Krishnan

SINGER | COMPOSER | EDUCATOR

TAKING INDIAN CLASSICAL MUSIC TO THE WORLD & BRINGING WORLD MUSIC TOGETHER

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Vinod Krishnan is a singer, composer, music producer, and educator. He is the Creative Director for music at IndianRaga and has performed with India's top musicians like Shankar Mahadevan, Vijay Prakash, Chatam Karthick, to name a few.

Trained in Indian classical music and piano, his work explores taking Indian classical music to newer audiences and bringing world music together. Vinod's work has been featured frequently on BBC, Rolling Stone, The Hindu, Indian Express, Times of India, Deccan Chronicle, Score, Film Companion, among many other major Indian and international media.

He has trained with stalwarts like Madurai T.N. Seshagopalan and Neyveli R. Santhanagopalan and currently learns from Madurai R. Sundar. He was the recipient of the prestigious CCRT scholarship awarded by the Indian government for 8 consecutive years.

Vinod has also performed at prestigious venues such as the United Nations General Assembly Hall, the opening act for Arijit Singh at GaanaFest, and the Howdy Modi in September, in Houston, in front of US President Donald Trump and Indian Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi.
